3) (man)	4) (jal)

WHILE YOUR CHILD WORKS

- Every Hindi consonant carries a built-in short 'a'. Children who have come from English phonics sometimes expect a vowel to be added and get stuck waiting for one - saying this once resolves it.
- The dictation exercise is the valuable one. Reading is recognition and writing from hearing is production, and only the second is what an exam asks for.
- Keep this sheet in circulation even after moving on to matras. Fluency on plain words is what makes matra words readable at speed rather than decodable letter by letter.
